01 KWANTU

DESCRIPTION

The Kwantu range looks at the Southern African clans and celebrates the diversity between the tribes. The use of beads and printed patterns has been used extensively in these clans as a way of communicating and sending messages, with different arrangements symbolizing different meaning. Kwantu sees the symbolism act as a form of mutuality between the people of the different cultures within the Nguni and Sotho groups.

DESCRIPTION

The Izinkomo series celebrates the beauty of the Nguni cattle. The Nguni people had and continue to have a very intimate relationship with their cattle. There is a strong cultural significance that these magnificent beasts carry which positions them at the core of Nguni heritage value. The cattle play an integral role in society's ecosystem. It is through these that we are fed. It is through these beasts that we solidify ancestral connections, we bind physical relationships when celebrating and that we expand our lineage by offering families of brides these sacred creatures as a gesture of warm fellowship and oneness.

03 UBHUKU LUKAMENZI

DESCRIPTION

UBhuku LukaMenzi is a project about Mkabayi KaJama, the undercelebrated Zulu princess who was the sister of King Senzangakhona KaJama and aunt to King Shaka Zulu. Through a combination of various visual metaphors, the project incorporates visual references that celebrate the Zulu people's high regard for tradition. The work aims to celebrate the legacy of the nation the princess fought hard to help build.

04 AMANAZARETHA

DESCRIPTION

The Nazareth Baptist Church is the second largest African initiated church based in South Africa and was founded in 1910. The church was originally groomed from missionary churches but aimed to maintain the customs and practices upheld in Zulu society. AmaNazaretha documents the gatherings within the church while observing the threads that demonstrate the churches' preparedness to celebrate the Zulu's abundant history and ways whilst embracing global inventions into their cultural aesthetic. .

05 IZINTOMBI

DESCRIPTION

Izintombi documents young women of the Zulu culture. The collection acknowledges young women as they play an integral role in preserving Zulu culture and heritage. This is evident in how girls use the richness of the Zulu language during certain rites of passage and customs to archive the Zulu narrative and layered history through song and dance. The collection celebrates these young flowers in a poetic portrait approach, set on the backdrop of the landscape of rural KwaZulu Natal.

06 IZITHUNZI ZAMI

DESCRIPTION

Izithunzi Zami is a visual diary of spiritual identity of a young woman. Set in a foreign environment, it speaks of an unusual encounter the subject has with herself, often displaying gestures of discomfort and darkness. This forces her to face and challenge issues of identity, gender and spirituality. This internal conversation metaphorically sees the unfolding of dialogue through the frame and forms bold imagery that embraces the coexistence of shadow and light.
